

Pedestrian Access from the GO Train's Exhibition Station to Ontario Place during the CNE (August 19 to September 5, 2011)

Please note, during the CNE (Aug 19 - Sept 5) Ontario Place will continue to offer free grounds admission to Ontario Place as it has throughout its 40th Anniversary in 2011. However, only select GO train passengers who arrive at Exhibition Station will be permitted to cross through the CNE grounds free of charge to get to Ontario Place:

- Ontario Place Canadian Family Play All Summer pass holders
- Molson Canadian Amphitheatre ticket holders (on day of the concert only)

All other Ontario Place guests (including Toronto Star Play All Day pass holders) may get to Ontario Place by:

1. Paying admission to the CNE[‡] and then crossing through the CNE to Ontario Place (less than 1 km)
2. Walking around the CNE to Ontario Place (approximately 2.5 km)
3. Taking the FREE Ontario Place shuttle bus which runs from 10am to 8pm*, and departs from the north side of the Exhibition GO station (at the south end of Atlantic Avenue).

* Shuttle bus times are subject to change

‡ There is a general admission charge to enter the CNE grounds. Neither the CNE nor Ontario Place can refund the CNE general admission charge once purchased.

If travelling to Ontario Place by GO train, it is better to get off at Union Station, not Exhibition Station:

- Travelling from the West:

Do NOT get off at the Exhibition Station or you will have to pay admission to get into the CNE, even if you are only going to Ontario Place. Instead, take the GO Train to Union Station, then take the 509 TTC Streetcar, get off at Fort York Boulevard, walk south and follow the signs to Ontario Place (approximately 1 km) (Do NOT take the streetcar into the CNE grounds[‡].)

- Travelling from the East:

Visitors coming from the east should exit the GO Train at Union Station, take the 509 TTC Streetcar, get off at Fort York Boulevard, walk south and follow the signs to Ontario Place (approximately 1 km) (Do NOT take the streetcar into the CNE grounds[‡].)

If you do mistakenly get off the GO train at Exhibition Station, there is a FREE shuttle bus to and from Ontario Place. Simply walk north under the GO train tracks to catch the shuttle bus at the south end of Atlantic Avenue, which runs from 10am to 8 pm.*
